Russia Accused Of Blackmail in UN Committee

U. S. Delegate Lashes Out at Red Demands for Satellite Entry.

Paris, Jan. 22. (AP)—The U. S. today accused Russia of using "blackmail" to try to force the entry of her satellites into the U. N.

American Delegate Ernest A. Gross told the 60-nation political committee the U. S. would refuse to pay.

He defined the blackmail as Russia's demand that the West support Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Outer Mongolia for membership in the U. N. in exchange for a Soviet promise not to veto the applications of Italy, Libya, Ireland, Finland, Portugal, Jordan, Austria, Ceylon and Nepal.

If the West paid off, Gross charged, Russia would keep inventing "shadowy, synthetic so-called states" like Outer Mongolia and demand their entrance every time any other state applied.

"Blackmail is always sought in installments," Gross declared.

Earlier Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb also had turned down the Russian offer. The U. S. and British refusals to accept the Russian offer appears to rule out any hope for early admission of new U. N. members.

Both men insisted that all countries must be judged for membership on their individual merits.

Jebb said Britain had "grave doubts" about the qualifications of the Soviet candidates. Gross told the committee the U. S. felt they "do not meet the simple but basic qualifications" set up by the charter.

These are the applicant must be peace-loving and have the intention of supporting the charter.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky left for Moscow today after taking part in the sixth session of the U. N. General Assembly.

Thousands Pay Tribute to Neff

Waco, Jan. 22. (AP)—Thousands paid final tribute here yesterday to Pat Morris Neff, 80, who died Sunday of a heart attack.

The former governor and Baylor University president had been a leader in church, state, school and fraternal affairs for half a century.

Masonic burial rites were held at the grave in Oakwood cemetery after Dr. Forrest Ceezar presided at funeral services in Waco's First Baptist Church.

The pastor read from the First Psalm: "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the council of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners not sitteth in the seat of the scornful."

That, said the pastor, embodied the life of Pat Morris Neff.

Invitations Extended to 150 For Opening of Auditorium

Invitations are being prepared by County Judge A. D. Green and the Vernon Chamber of Commerce to be extended to over 150 county and city dignitaries from North Texas and Southwest Oklahoma to attend the formal opening and dedication of the new $650,000 Wilbarger County Auditorium here Feb. 4.

The Rex Allen Show, featuring Miss Ginny Jackson and the Sons of the Pioneers and starring motion picture star Rex Allen, will present the opening program in the new auditorium. A 30-minute nation-wide radio broadcast will originate from the stage of the new building.

A capacity crowd of over 2,000 persons is expected to attend the formal opening. There will be no admission charge for the event.

Also appearing on the program will be Paul Endacott, president of Phillips Petroleum Company, sponsors of the Rex Allen Show, and L. E. Fitzjarrald, executive vice president.

In addition to the spacious 2,000-seat auditorium, the new building also has facilities for club meetings, banquets and other events.

Persons to be extended invitations include:

Marine Jet Plane Wreckage Found

Vicksburg, Miss., Jan. 22. (AP)—The tangled wreckage of a Marine Corps jet fighter plane missing since June 10, and the body of its pilot have been found in a thickly-wooded hill section of Warren County, 25 miles northeast of Vicksburg.

An armed services investigating team positively identified the body today as that of Capt. Jack Wood, San Angelo, Texas. Identification was established from personal papers on the body.

A Negro boy hunting rabbits stumbled on the wreckage yesterday.

Discovery of the plane ended a seven-month search. Captain Wood and another Marine flyer took off from the naval air station at Hensley Field, Dallas, last June 10, en route to Maxwell Air Force Base at Montgomery, Ala.

Brazos River Bridge Span Collapses Near Olney

Wichita Falls, Jan. 22. (AP)—A single-span steel bridge over the Brazos River, between Throckmorton and Olney, collapsed yesterday and slightly injured two men.

A truck fell 25 feet to the river's lower bank when the bridge gave way. Its two occupants, Oscar Cunkel, 30, and Pete Belton, 28, suffered minor bruises.

Traffic was being routed over State Highway 251 from Olney and Newcastle and on State Highway 29 from Newcastle to Throckmorton. The bridge was on Highway 79.

Highway Mishap Costs Truck Driver $34 Here

A mishap Monday near Sharp Gin three miles east of Vernon on the Wichita Falls highway cost the driver of an oil transport truck from Abilene $34 in the Justice Court of C. W. Shepherd. The driver was charged with hit-and-run driving and fined $20 and court costs. In the only other fine reported by Mr. Shepherd Tuesday, a Dallas man was assessed $19 on a speeding count.

Quick Vote Unlikely in Jessup Case

Washington, Jan. 22. (AP)—Majority Leader McFarland (D-Ariz.) today threw cold water on Republican plans for a quick Senate vote on a new resolution aimed at recall of UN Ambassador Philip C. Jessup.

Republican senators said they hoped for parliamentary developments which would bring a showdown by tomorrow or later this week.

"I don't think they'll be able to get that," McFarland told a reporter.

He indicated he planned to go ahead with his program after the Senate clears its first item of business this session—the District of Columbia home rule bill.

Minority Leader Bridges (R-N.H.) introduced the new resolution yesterday.

It states that Jessup "is not qualified to represent the United States as a delegate to the United Nations' meeting now in Paris and asks that he be 'recalled forthwith.'

Republicans say enough Democratic senators will join them to pass the resolution if it can be brought to vote.

The result, however, would be merely a "request" to President Truman. He could ignore it. When the Senate failed to act finally on Jessup's nomination last Fall, Mr. Truman gave him a recess appointment.

TWO AIRMEN KILLED

San Antonio, Jan. 22. (AP)—Two Randolph Field airmen died instantly yesterday when a derrick on which they were leaning touched a high tension wire. They were identified by base officers as Cpl. Cloyd R. Mix, 25, Terraville, S.D., and Pfc. Robert F. Schroeder, 20, Ossian, Ia.

Reds Fall Back In Indo-China

Hanoi, Indochina, Jan. 22. (AP)—The French high command claimed today the Communist-led Vietminh troops were withdrawing west and southeast of Hanoi under heavy fire from French and Vietnamese.

A French Army spokesman said aerial reconnaissance showed the Vietminh had retired southward of Colonial Route Six, the main highway leading to Hoa Binh on the Black River, 40 miles southwest of Hanoi.

French mobile groups meanwhile pursued the fleeing Vietminh in the Red River delta area around Namdinh, 45 miles southeast of Hanoi.

The French said the Vietminh were operating in small groups scattered through the forest and rice fields and that it had been difficult to contact strong enemy elements to force a major fight.

The French had estimated a total of 15,000 Vietminh troops were in the delta north of the Red River, and another 13,000 were scattered to the south.

DRIVER IS CONVICTED

London, Jan. 22. (AP)—The driver of a bus which killed 24 marching Boy Cadets Dec. 4 was convicted today of dangerous driving. He was fined 20 pounds ($56) and his driving license was suspended three years. The driver was John Samson, 57.

FEW ARRESTS REPORTED

General quiet on the law enforcement front was the report from the local officers Tuesday. One person was picked up for lunacy investigation. Two were fined in city corporation court—one $5 for driving without license, the other $3 for running a stop sign.

Lawyer Asks New Trial in Slaying Case

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 22. (AP)—The Court of Appeals has been asked to order a third trial for the Rev. George P. Hetenyi, sentenced to die in the electric chair for the shooting of his wife.

Hetenyi's counsel, George J. Skivington of Rochester, told the State's highest court yesterday there was "not one single scintilla of evidence to sustain a finding that this killing occurred in the County of Monroe."

Skivington also argued that improper evidence had been introduced at Hetenyi's second trial.

The Court of Appeals reserved decision.

The appeal was the second by Hetenyi to come before the high court.

The former Episcopal supply minister first appealed a second-degree murder conviction returned more than two years ago. The conviction would have meant a prison sentence.

However, the court upheld the appeal and ordered new trial.

At the second trial last May, Hetenyi was convicted of first-degree murder and was sentenced to death.

The body of Hetenyi's 24-year-old wife, Jean, was found in the Genesee River near Rochester on April 23, 1949.

Fannie Ward Near Death In New York

New York, Jan. 22. (AP)—Fannie Ward, the "Fountain of Youth" girl who reached a grandma's age still looking like a flapper, was near death today.

The one-time actress, who wore bobbed hair and short skirts when other women her age were ready for the rocking chair, is about 80.

She was found unconscious yesterday in her Park Avenue apartment. Her condition was reported "very serious" today at Lenox Hill Hospital where a spokesman said she had suffered a heart attack.

Records indicate she was born in St. Louis Feb. 22, 1872. That would make her 80 years old next month, but some of her admirers say she is older than that.

She herself believes in looking young—and not divulging her age.

In her hey-day, when her girl-like appearance attracted more attention off-stage than on, her pale blue stationery was stamped in gold letters with her goal, "Eternal Youth."

She often attributed her youthful looks to a secret facial treatment confided to her by Gaby De-slys, French stage star.

Whatever the secret, "Fabulous Fannie" appeared in 50 plays, vaudeville acts, and moving pictures in a theatrical career that started in 1890 and outlived two husbands.

But despite her refusal to recognize age, her health began failing several months ago.

How long she had been lying in a coma when a friend found her in her apartment was unknown. She last had been seen up and about on Saturday.

Italians Asked to Support Biggest Budget in History

Rome, Jan. 22. (AP)—Premier Alcide de Gasperi asked Italians today to support the biggest national budget in their history—one which calls for extraordinary defense expenditures of $400 million in the next two fiscal years.

The Premier made his plea for support at a news conference.

In their first editions today Communist newspapers had already begun their attack on the budget.

The budget's provisory figures call for total expenditures in round figures, of about $3.5 billion—an increase of $480 million over 1951-52.

Announcing the Golden Anniversary—Cadillac

...WITH THE FINEST PERFORMANCE OF ALL TIME !

THE NEW 190 H. P. CADILLAC ENGINE

Here is the most powerful, the most durable, and the most efficient automotive engine ever offered in a Cadillac car. Its power increase is almost 20%—and its new four-throated carburetor, large exhaust valves and new dual exhaust system make this engine one of the most dynamic performers of all time.

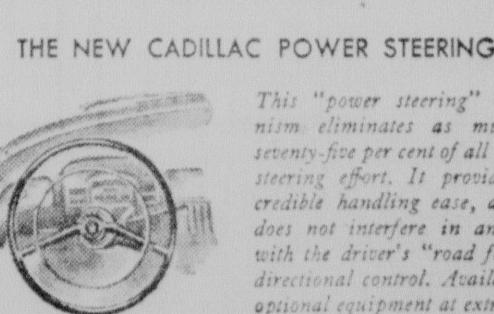

Fifty years ago, the first Cadillac car made its bow to the public. Today, as a fitting climax to those fifty years of progress, we are presenting in our showrooms the Golden Anniversary Cadillac—by far the finest car ever to bear this distinguished name. . . . It is easily the most beautiful of all Cadillacs. Numerous changes have sharpened and smartened the exterior design—while the wholly-new interiors are a revelation in comfort and luxury. . . . Performance is the finest of all time. The great Cadillac engine has a power increase of almost twenty per cent—and is even smoother and quieter in its operation. . . . There's a new Hydra-Matic Drive that gives the proper power application for every need. At a flick of the finger, you can have extra power and acceleration for city traffic and mountain driving—or wonderfully smooth, quiet, gas-saving performance for the open road. . . . And there's a new "power steering" mechanism, optional at extra cost, which reduces normal steering effort by as much as seventy-five per cent. . . . If ever it could be said of a car's performance that it is "out of this world," it can be said of the performance of the new Cadillac. The Golden Anniversary Cadillac is available in three separate series—the "Sixty-Two," the "Sixty Special" and the "Seventy-Five." . . . These new creations are now on display in our showrooms—and we invite you to see and inspect them at your earliest convenience.

THE NEW HYDRA-MATIC DRIVE

By introducing an entirely new performance range, Cadillac's Hydra-Matic provides the proper power for every need . . . extra acceleration and responsiveness for city and mountain driving; smooth, quiet, gas-saving performance for the open road. Optional at extra cost on Series 75. Standard equipment on all other series.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.....

INTERESTING RACE FOR SENATE IS ASSURED

Attorney General Price Daniel has made the announcement he has been expected to make for some weeks, especially after it became fairly certain that Allan Shivers would ask for another term in the Governor's office. He has challenged one of Texas' best known political figures in asking the people of Texas to elect him to the United States Senate. If Mr. Shivers had entered the Senate race, as some expected him to do, the logical course for Mr. Daniel would have been to run for Governor, but that possibility went by the boards when Mr. Shivers announced his plans a few days ago.

This will be the first time in 18 years that Senator Tom Connally will face serious opposition. He was first elected in 1928 in a memorable campaign which unseated Earle B. Mayfield after only one term in office. Six years later, in the early days of the New Deal of the late President Roosevelt, Senator Connally was challenged by Joseph W. Bailey, Jr., Congressman and a son of one of the State's best known political leaders of a previous generation.

The issue in that race was the New Deal with Senator Connally defending. He won by a handsome majority. The issue this year will not be quite so clearly defined, but Mr. Connally's position as chairman of the Senate committee on Foreign Affairs has required him to act as spokesman for an unpopular Administration which will not do him any good.

Mr. Daniel is young. He has a good record as Attorney General and his three races for that office have made his name familiar to the present generation of Texas voters. These factors, plus Senator Connally's age, will be in Mr. Daniel's favor. On the other hand, Senator Connally's state-wide organization, his long record in the Senate and undoubted popularity, especially among older voters, will make him a formidable candidate.

The contest for United States Senator in Texas this Summer should be quite a race.

TEXAS LOSES A GREAT CITIZEN IN PAT NEFF'S DEATH

In the passing of former Governor Pat M. Neff, who died Sunday at his home in Waco, Texas lost one of her most distinguished citizens. It would be difficult to say in which capacity he will be most remembered. He served with distinction in many capacities. He was a member of the Texas Legislature and was elected Speaker of the House in 1903 as the youngest man ever chosen for that position up to that time. Later he was elected prosecuting attorney of his home county of McLennan and made a record of law enforcement which has been remembered through subsequent years.

Election to the office of Governor in 1920 over former United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey, then a popular figure not only in Texas but throughout the nation, was Mr. Neff's most notable achievement in the field of politics. After retiring from office he served as a member of the National Board of Mediation as an appointee of President Calvin Coolidge. Later he was appointed Railroad Commissioner and then was elected to the office, from which he retired to become president of Baylor University, his alma mater.

In appearance and habits Mr. Neff had for some years seemed like a representative of another era, as indeed he was in some particulars. But he never compromised his views and his career was not free from controversy. However, his most uncompromising critics never called in question his character or ability.

Perhaps his greatest service was his administration of the affairs of Baylor University. The depression was on when he became president and Baylor was having difficulties, as most educational institutions were at the time. The present Baylor which rates with the best in the country owes much to his leadership. In retirement he no doubt felt unusual satisfaction in feeling that he had a part in building a great institution of learning.

Texans of all creeds will mourn the passing of Pat Neff, because Texas will be better because of his services.

We never see a fat woman enter a corset shop without thinking of the Battle of the Bulge.

If you want your progress to stop, just be totally satisfied. The brightest side of politics is on the inside.

Rogers Is Most Reluctant Actor

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Jan. 22. (AP)—The season's most reluctant actor in a starring role is Will Rogers Jr., who is portraying his father in a film biography.

Young Will who looks much more boyish than his 39 years would indicate, has plunged into his work for "the story of Will Rogers." But he indicated that he would just as soon someone else had played the role.

"The family has made several recommendations of actors who would be willing to play Dad," he told me. "But something always interfered. Jimmy Stewart, for instance. He would have been fine for the role. But he had other contracts to fulfill. The studio had to get the picture started because of color camera commitments, so I was chosen."

Will has been toying with the role since 'way back in 1941, when he first made a screen test for it. The film project has been in the works since then. Although other actors have been considered, Will always has been the choice of studio boss Jack Warner and director Michael Curtiz.

"I never sought the role," Will said. "Acting doesn't come easy to me. It's contrary to all the training I've ever had. I might have done some plays in high school, but that was all. Whatever public appearances I have made since then have been to deliver speeches that I have written myself. Even in college (Stanford) when I did musical shows, it was generally material I had written."

He indicated he had trouble handling the lines and speeches written by others. He even has some love scenes in the picture with Jane Wyman, who plays Mrs. Rogers.

"Jane is a tower of strength," he remarked. "She knows exactly how I should read lines and corrects me if I'm wrong."

El Paso Commissioner Granted 1-Year Extension

Washington, Jan. 22. (AP)—Lawrence M. Lawson, 73, El Paso, will serve another year as the American Commissioner of the International Boundary Commission.

The White House notified Senator Connally's office of the extension yesterday. If the President had not requested the extension, Lawson would have asked to retire Jan. 1 because of his age.

Rep. Lloyd Bentsen, Jr., McAllen, who had urged that Lawson be retained, expressed satisfaction at the presidential decision.

A two-year extension was granted Lawson in 1950 when he reached the retirement age of 70.

Frederic March won the motion picture academy "Oscar" as the best actor in 1932 and 1946.

Dr. Logan's Wife

By Diana Gaines

Copyright 1951 by Diana Gaines. Used by arrangement with the publishers, Random House, Inc. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Jennet Logan, whose well-ordered life is upset by her attraction toward the young and charming biophysicist Peter Surinov, believes that by eschewing Peter's project of a new cigarette she can clear her conscience and rid herself of troublesome thoughts. Peter's actions have won him the enmity of Maxwell Cota, head of the hospital where Peter works in atomic medicine research, and Cota is trying to cast Peter as a Communist. Dr. Gus Logan, not suspecting his wife's infidelity, is Peter's confidante. The younger man, Jennet does not wish to give her husband's money to Peter and she recalls an old lavaliere, something she inherited, which she decides to sell to raise money. She takes the helmet to a jeweler.

A TALL thin mournful boy in a cashmere suit approached her with clasped hands. She stared at his face for a moment thinking that it might have been created by Modigliani, and then at his question, she asked to see Mr. Chagiantz. She was invited to sit on the green satin lip, and while she waited, she helped herself to a dish of chocolates.

When she saw him coming toward her, she did not rise, but leaned back against the couch with a coolly modulated, "How do you do, Mr. Chagiantz?" Her eyes left only a thin rim of sight and she allowed her lips to part without actually smiling.

"Can I do something for you, Madame?"

"Yes, you can, Mr. Chagiantz. I am Mrs. Logan." She ground her cigarette loosely in the dish and stood up. "Mrs. Augustus Logan?" "Ah, yes, of course," Chagiantz beamed and cupped Jennet's elbow, guiding her to the counter, perhaps so that he could lean against it. "Yes, Dr. Logan. I've known him for years." His eyes twinkled and he pointed to the star sapphire. "I believe we made that for you—and the earrings too, if I'm not mistaken."

Jennet said, "Yes, you did. I knew that Dr. Logan traded here. That's why I came."

JENNET fumbled with the catch of her purse. She was again conscious of perspiring and she hoped that the little beads of sweat that were forming under her makeup would not be visible in the half-light. She handed the manila envelope to Chagiantz who had, in the space of her fumbling, moved to the rear of the counter so that they faced each other across it.

"How much?" Jennet asked doggedly.

"Twelve hundred dollars."

Relief made her shoulders sag.

She began to tremble. "Sold," she said, mustering an arch smile.

He counted the fifties and hundreds out on her palm, tasting each one. She did not follow the count, but concentrated on holding her betraying fingers stiffly.

"I—I'd like to know what I could get for this lavaliere, Mr. Chagiantz. It's a family piece—I don't know how old—but I think it's quite a good diamond, and the chain, of course, is platinum."

He turned the piece in his hands, the chain trailing, and the smile on his face was one he might have bestowed on a spastic child who wasn't looking. Rapidly the figure Jennet had held in her head sank.

"You are sure you want to sell this?" Chagiantz said, leaning from his forefinger. "You say it's been in the family. Perhaps you will have regrets. So often women come in with things like this. Then later they are sorry. But later I cannot do anything. Not a thing. We send stones like these to our New York store. They rework them . . ."

"I'm perfectly sure," Jennet said. "It has no sentimental value."

Chagiantz was in no hurry. There was no one else in the store. He told her of a movie actress who had recently demanded that he buy back some of the things he had sold to her husband. He mentioned the actress' name, which was well known.

The story had absolutely no relevance, no point except name-throwing. Jennet could barely conceal her impatience.

With infinite weariness, Chagiantz sighed. "Just a moment," he said, and he strolled to the back room.

He returned in a few minutes with a magnifying lens bulging like tumor under his brow. He unscrewed it, set it down on the counter as carefully as if it were his right eye. Then he let the pendant drop in front of her. It made a little click. Was it a sound or quality? Or of paste? Had the magnifier found Great-uncle Barnaby out at last?

"How much?" Jennet asked doggedly.

"Twelve hundred dollars."

Relief made her shoulders sag.

She began to tremble. "Sold," she said, mustering an arch smile.

He counted the fifties and hundreds out on her palm, tasting each one. She did not follow the count, but concentrated on holding her betraying fingers stiffly.

"I—I'd like to know what I could get for this lavaliere, Mr. Chagiantz. It's a family piece—I don't know how old—but I think it's quite a good diamond, and the chain, of course, is platinum."

He turned the piece in his hands, the chain trailing, and the smile on his face was one he might have bestowed on a spastic child who wasn't looking. Rapidly the figure Jennet had held in her head sank.

"You are sure you want to sell this?" Chagiantz said, leaning from his forefinger. "You say it's been in the family. Perhaps you will have regrets. So often women come in with things like this. Then later they are sorry. But later I cannot do anything. Not a thing. We send stones like these to our New York store. They rework them . . ."

"I'm perfectly sure," Jennet said. "It has no sentimental value."

Chagiantz was in no hurry. There was no one else in the store. He told her of a movie actress who had recently demanded that he buy back some of Turn fruit mixture into large mixing bowl and allow to cool. (Prepare 9½ x 5½ x 2½ pan; grease bottom of pan, line bottom with waxed paper.) Beat egg into fruit mixture thoroughly; stir in candied fruits and peels and walnuts. Add sifted dry ingredients and beat to mix thoroughly. Pour into prepared pan; bake in very slow (250°F) oven 1½ hours. Turn out on cake rack; strip off paper and cool thoroughly. Store in tightly covered container and leave overnight before slicing.

Watertown, S. D. (AP)—Live microphones greeted the Watertown city fathers when they sat down to a recent Council meeting.

The Council's first order of business was to vote, 9 to 1, that the broadcast of its proceedings over the local station be discontinued. Mayor Gerhard A. Gilbert, voted the action.

The station withdrew its equipment anyway on the grounds it didn't want to "cause trouble."

Only Four Teams Unbeaten In Nation's Cage Play

New York, Jan. 22. (AP)—Only four collegiate basketball teams—Illinois, St. Bonaventure, Kansas and Duquesne—were left on the list of unbeaten today following the startling upset of Iowa.

Indiana shattered Iowa's 12-game winning streak last night with an 82-69 victory at Bloomington, Ind. It was a crushing setback for the Hawkeyes, for it not only ended their victory streak but also knocked them out of first place in the Western Conference race.

Illinois, although idle, moved into the top spot. The Illini, the nation's No. 1 team, lead with a 40 record. Iowa now is 5-1 in league play.

This leaves one big question: Will any of the remaining unbeaten—Illinois (11-0), St. Bonaventure (10-0), Kansas (13-0) and Duquesne (11-0)—get through the season unscathed?

Odds say no. Army's 1944 squad (15-0) was the last to finish with a spotless record. Last season, Columbia went through the regular season without a defeat but was koy'd in the first round of the NCAA playoffs.

The Western Conference had its customary heavy Monday night schedule. In other games, Ohio State nipped Minnesota, 59-58; Michigan State trimmed Wisconsin,

Junior Cagers Win Two Games

Two Junior High cage squads swept games from Electra there Monday night.

The seventh and eighth graders downed Electra 21-16. David Coleyman and Teddy Ferguson took high point honors with six points each.

The ninth graders dumped the Electra B Squad 47-43. Jerry Pearson was high point man with 18 points and Gene Miller got 12 for the juniors.

Lions Meet Big Spring Here Tonight

All Teams Set For Action in 1-AAA Race

The Vernon Lions will be trying to keep their District 1-AAA cage slate unsullied tonight when they play host to the Big Spring Steers.

The A-B doubleheader is slated to get underway at 6:15.

Vernon holds a 45-33 win over Sweetwater in league play and Big Spring dropped a 33-32 tilt to Midland in its only outing.

The Lions are still trying to shake off effects of the flu that has plagued them since last week.

Lester Dye, Ramon Towry, James Tull, Jerry Thomas and Gordie Harvey will carry the brunt of the action for the Lions. Dye, Thomas and Towry were high point men for the Lions against the Mustangs, scoring 14, 13 and 10 points, respectively.

The Steers will field a tall, though inexperienced team. For the season, they have won six times in 18 starts. The Lions boast an 8-4 mark.

Other action tonight will send Lamesa to Sweetwater and Midland to Plainview.

Women's Golf Tournament Is Slated for San Antonio

San Antonio, Jan. 22. (AP)—This city will be a stop on the national tour of the Women's Professional Golf Association.

A 54-hole tournament will be held here Oct. 17, 18 and 19.

Fred Corcoran, tournament manager, has guaranteed the appearance of Babe Zaharias, Betty Berg, Louise Suggs, Marlene and Alice Bauer, Dot Kirby, Peggy Kirk, Shirley Spork, Beverly Hansen, Betty MacKinnon, Betty Mims Danhoff, Betty Dodd, Betsy Rawls and Betty Jameson.

The tournament will be called "The Betty Jameson Open" in honor of San Antonio's noted woman professional golfer.

Regional Tournaments Slated For Golden Gloves in State

Fort Worth, Jan. 22. (AP)—Three regional Golden Gloves tournaments, one tonight at Amarillo, will be held this week.

The boxing shows are moving toward the state championship tournament set here Feb. 13-18. Wichita Falls' tournament opens tomorrow night and Odessa opens one Thursday night.

Fifteen other regional tournaments are set for the last week in January or the first week in February. They will be at Abilene, Austin, Beaumont, Brownwood, Bryan, Commerce, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, McAllen, San Angelo, San Antonio, Tyler and Waco.

Top money goes to the pro who has the best 36-hole score with the assistance of his amateur partners. Harrison was leading as they started away today, his Simon-pure assistants aiding to the extent that their best ball card showed a 57-15 under par. Grant Withers, Paul From and Perris Letsinger provided the assistance.

Riegel was second, thanks to aid from Glenn Thomas, Joe Gilpin and Addison Holton. They have a 58.

The boxing shows are moving toward the state championship tournament set here Feb. 13-18. Wichita Falls' tournament opens tomorrow night and Odessa opens one Thursday night.

Five junior, the 190-pound Meyer is the only Texan on the 36-man squad announced yesterday by the New World, Chicago Catholic publication.
